Guide to Services

Our mission is to help maintain an individual's independence and dignity in their home and community.

What We Do

Options for Long-Term Care (OLTC) provides functional assessments and ongoing case management for low-income individuals of all ages who need Medicaid long-term care services in their homes or alternative care facilities, or for people in need of placement in a skilled nursing facility. In conjunction with the individual, the case manager creates a plan of care and assists to arrange services. The case manager provides follow-up monitoring and links individuals and families to community resources.

How to Apply

Weld County residents in need of long-term care services must first apply for Long Term Care (LTC) Medicaid through Weld County Department of Human Services, or online through Colorado PEAK at www.colorado.gov/PEAK. The OLTC goal is to provide long-term care services and supports in the least-restrictive setting requested by individuals and their families while utilizing Medicaid in the most cost-effective manner possible.

Potential Services Available

Who May Qualify

Individuals applying for long-term care services must qualify functionally and financially.

Read the following panel to learn more about these qualifications.

Functional Qualifications

OLTC completes the functional assessment. A person may qualify functionally if the individual has difficulty completing activities of daily living such as bathing, dressing, toileting or eating, has difficulty with walking, or requires supervision due to memory or behavioral concerns, and if the individual is at nursing home level of care.

Financial Qualifications

Weld County Department of Human Services processes and completes the financial eligibility. The 2019 income limit for an individual is $2,313 and an individual asset limit of $2,000 or less, not including the home you live in and one automobile. Couples may have up to $126,420 in assets, not including your home or automobile for one of you to qualify for services.

For exceptions and more specific information on qualifying financially, please call (970) 400-6018.
